REPORT OF ONLINE WEBINAR ON “ WORKPLACE 2022:
Incorporating Professional Ethics and Personal Values at the Workplace .”
Date: 23rd July 2022.

Resource Person: Mr. Hari Krishnan Kurup
Asst. Professor & HOD Dept of Management, SVKM's Mithibai College of Arts, Science & Commerce.

The program started with Prof. (Dr) Sunita Sharma welcoming everyone for the second event of IQAC. The objective of organizing this event was to improve workplace environment and the morale of the employees. Research studies have shown that employees who are ethically positive, honest, hardworking and driven by principles of fairness and decency in the workplace increase the overall morale and enhances the performance of an organization.

Principal Dr. Prashant Shelar introduced the JES College and welcomed everyone for the webinar. This was followed by Dr. Sharma introducing Mr. Hari Krishnan Kurup to everyone.

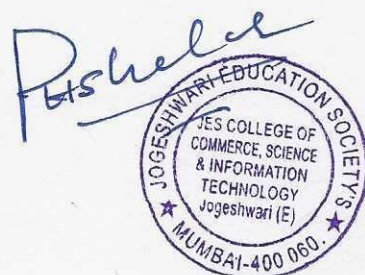

Ethics come from Ethos. It has to come from within. Mr Kurup explained that what may be right for one is wrong for the other. In order to make world more just & human we have to see how we see ourselves? and How do we see others? I will have to get into the pond to clean. Only if I have values of fairness, honesty and integrity will I be able to change the behavior of others. Whenever I want to start or create a new habit, you should start to push up, you have to start exploring and forcibly put into action. Work play is a play of ethics and morals. Teachers are treated as Superhumans in relation to students, parents, society, profession and management. Today Israel is one of the most developed country when we talk of technology the reason being that the people are very high in terms of morale values and are ready to do anything for their country. In fact professional ethics can transform ones career.

He concluded by saying that our Ethics should not be driven by others, but should be guided by us. We often make opinions, this pulls us behind. We should actually have a more rational viewpoint.

This was followed by question answer session . The participants were asked to fill the feedback form.

Mr. Vikram concluded the programme by presenting formal Vote of Thanks.
